

School Days! School Shoes!

The "Little Wanderer" Shoes for Children

The merit of these shoes is so well known to most of our patrons that comment here is almost unnecessary.

For School Wear—we are showing vic kid, box calf and tan Russia.

For Dress Wear—Patent colt, in either dull calf or black cravenetted cloth tops.

The Prices on these range from $1.50 a pair for the little ones up to $2.50 and $3.00 for the big miss.

We Make a Specialty of Children's Shoes

Positive in our belief that for school wear the children should be properly shod, we have assembled the proper shoes at the right prices. Then, we KNOW HOW to properly fit them.

Misses' All Leather Shoes, in vic kid, patent tip, in button style, sizes 1 1/2 to 2 1/2, special at $1.50

For Big Misses—Vic Kid or Gun-metal Shoes, in sizes 2 1/2 to 5, at, per pair, $2.00

BAPTIST ALLIANCE WILL HAVE RALLY

Notable Speakers to Address Gathering at First Baptist Tuesday Night.

In the main auditorium of the First Baptist Church, of this city, on Tuesday night, at 8:15 o'clock P. M., there will be held a great mass-meeting—a Baptist World's Alliance rally. The chief speakers of the evening will be Rev. Robert S. McArthur, D. D., the famous New York minister, who is now the president of the World's Alliance, and Rev. William Fetter, of St. Petersburg, Russia.

Dr. McArthur is too well and widely known in this country to need any extended introduction to Richmond people. For forty years he has been pastor of a great church in the heart of New York. He is the author of many widely circulated books and is a speaker of rare eloquence and impressiveness. There is a persistent rumor not yet fully verified that Dr. McArthur will resign his New York pastorate and give himself for the next five years wholly to his duties as president of the World's Alliance.

Interesting History. Rev. William Fetter is a native of Courland, a province, Russia. By birth he is a Lett and by virtue of this he is in his own country certain liberties and privileges that are denied to the true born Russian. He was educated at Spurgeon's Pastors' College in London, and upon the completion of his education undertook evangelistic work in St. Petersburg. He is a master of seven languages. He is an interesting and striking personality, and is on fire with enthusiasm for his work.

He began his labors in St. Petersburg in 1897, and in these four brief years has made himself one of the best known men in the great Russian capital. The Lettish Church in which he began to preach was soon shown to be inadequate, larger meeting places were secured and finally the hall in which the city Duma met was used for his services. So rapidly has Mr. Fetter's work grown in St. Petersburg that there are now twelve preaching places for him and his co-laborers. He has been very instrumental in securing from the officials liberty of worship for the Lettish people of that city. Altogether he is a most interesting and impressive person, and his story on Tuesday night will doubtless be one of absorbing interest to Christian people of every communion.

It is believed that the great room at the First Church will be thronged with those who are eager to hear these distinguished visitors. Dr. McDaniel, the pastor, has arranged for an overflow meeting in the basement, if that should be necessary. All are invited.

Special Sermon This Morning. Solemn Day Among the Orthodox.

Rosh Hashana, or New Year's Day, marking the beginning of the Jewish year 5672, was ushered in last evening at sunset, and was observed with ceremonies and special services in the three synagogues of Richmond and two small congregations which gathered in halls secured for the purpose.

Rev. Edward N. Calisch, Ph. D., rabbi of Beth Ahabah Temple, preached upon "The Measuring Staff of Life" before a large congregation. He will preach again this morning at 10 o'clock on "These Twenty Years," the occasion being his twentieth anniversary as rabbi at Beth Ahabah.

Rev. Moses Medvedoff conducted the services at Sir Moses Montefiore Synagogue, while those at the Keneseth Israel Synagogue were in charge of Rabbi Adler Shetforn.

All Jews will observe holiday until 6 o'clock to-night. All places of business conducted by them were closed yesterday with the beginning of the New Year, and will remain so until 6 o'clock this evening.

The orthodox Jews also celebrate on the so-called second day, Sunday.

Rosh Hashana is the most solemn holiday of the Jewish calendar, next to Yom Kippur, or the Day of Atonement, and not a mere day of rejoicing like the secular New Year. It is a day of memorial of a day of remembrance, reminding the Jew of the duty of self-examination and self-judgment.

The orthodox also call it "Yom Hadin," the Day of Judgment, and they believe that on last Thursday God opened the Book of Life in heaven and that all the inhabitants of the world pass before Him in single file and are judged according to their conduct during the past year, and that judgment is entered in the book indicating whether they shall have fortune or misfortune in the year to come.

The book is closed at sunset, but is left unsealed for ten days, the ten days of penance, and on the tenth day, Yom Kippur, it is reopened, and during that day it is believed that God modifies the judgments if sincere repentance has been manifested by sinners. The book is sealed at sunset of that day for one year.

The belief has arisen the custom of the salutation between Jews on New Year's Day of "Le Shana Tova Tikasesh," or "May you be inscribed in the Book of Life for a good year."

To arouse the conscience to a solemn searching of self the ceremony of sounding the shofar, or ram's horn, forms an important feature of the special services. Among the orthodox Jews attainment of this object is also secured by fasting aside a few days before New Year's Day for the recital in the synagogues of penitential prayers, called Selihot.

When the earnest devotions of the day are done the festival is made an occasion of social and domestic rejoicing.

Carrier Pigeon Arrives Here.

A carrier pigeon, marked A. J. 11, A. 204, liberated last week on Tappanhook River, off Tappanhook, by LeRoy E. Brown and his Philadelphia friends aboard the yacht La Bella, arrived in Richmond Tuesday, September 19, at the pigeon loft of Master Allen Walters, corner Monument Avenue and the Boulevard. Master Walters fed and again sent it on its journey, but it returned. He liberated it again yesterday, with a postscript of a continuance of its flight. Evidently from the ring marks on its leg it is a trial race of some home-bred pigeon of a distant city, which would be glad to know its fate and record.

Entertain Plan Grande.

At the next meeting of Pittsburgh Lodge, No. 25, I. O. O. F., to be held at Fraternity Hall, 215 West Broad Street, September 25, the "Plan Grande" will be presented, and there will be some talks for the young people of the city. Arrangements have been made for a smoker to add to the pleasures.

Blues' Band to Give Smoker.

Invitations are being sent out to a smoker to be given by the Richmond Light Infantry Blues' Band at the Masonic Temple on Tuesday evening next, beginning at 9 o'clock.
